STANDARD OIL HOT IN REPLY TO GOV'T REHEARING APPEAL

VIGOROUS RESPONSE IN DOCUMENT FILED WITH COURT

SAY COURT NOT IN ERROR

ANSWER SAYS UNCLE SAM IS ONE WHO ERRED

MAY GO TO SUPREME COURT

In Case Rehearing Is Not Ordered Sims Will Take Case to Court of Last Resort

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The reply of the Standard Oil company to the government's petition for rehearing of the case, in which the circuit court appeals wiped out the Judge Landis fine, was filed today.

The reply meets vigorously the arguments presented by the government tending to show that the court erred in reversing Landis' decision and remanding the case to the lower court for retrial. Judges Grosscup, Baker and Seaman will hear the arguments later and the decision is expected some time in October.

The government's petition was filed August 21 and 20 days are allowed by statute for an answer. Should the appellate court deny the rehearing it is believed that the attorney general will order District Attorney Sims to take the case to the supreme court on a writ of certiorari. This may have the effect of bringing the whole case in its present shape with the $29,000,000 fine attached, before the highest court in the land.

Text of the Answer.

We may fairly insist that counsel indulging in criticism of the opinion of the court be held to a scrupulous accuracy in their treatment, both of the court's rulings and of the record. We may require that such criticisms be confined to substantial grounds for rehearing. We may properly suggest that the repetition in the petition for rehearing of arguments, disposed of in the opinion, is not within the rule governing such applications.

We take up the grounds urged in support of this application in the order in which the counsel for the government presented them.

It is urged by counsel that the court should give consideration again to the purposes which congress had in the passage of the act making it criminal for shippers to accept concessions from the lawful published transportation rates.

All this was elaborately presented to this court in former arguments. For rehearing settled principles which no one controverts counsel do not have the motive that they have shown that these principles have been violated in this case.

There is nothing of inequality of rates as between different shippers, or of favoritism to this defendant averred or proved in this record.

If this prosecution had involved any charge or issue of that kind by defendant then, before counsel could base any argument upon it, some clear proof on the part of the government must have been presented to sustain its side of that issue. The defendant is prosecuted for receiving the same rate as was open to other shippers under similar circumstances.

Again, if the issue of discrimination were an issue in this case, it is plain that any evidence offered on behalf of the defendant which tended to disprove that contention was admissible, and could not properly be objected to by the government or excluded by the court. Such evidence was objected to and excluded.

Obviously this evidence, if admitted would have tended to disprove any contention that the Alton practiced any discrimination between the shipping public.

But it is not for the securing of equality of rates as to all that the counsel asked the court to reconsider the purpose of the Alton's act. They say that it is in that portion of opinion which deals with the necessity of some showing by the government of knowledge on the part of the accused shipper of the lawful rate, in order to justify his conviction, that the court has failed to give due weight to the purpose which congress had in the passage of the law. The court is invited to find in that act a purpose to impose upon shippers the duty of ascertaining that the rate which they pay for transportation is the lawful rate. Counsel are arguing in support of the ruling of the trial court that the proof need not establish that the accused shipper had knowledge of the lawful rate.

Counsel say that the supreme court in the case of the Abilene Cotton Oil company rules that it was the duty of the shipper to ascertain the

WINSTON CHURCHILL AND BRIDE TO BE, MISS CLEMENTINE HOZIER

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The social eyes of England are bent upon the approaching Churchill-Hozier wedding quite as much as were the American eyes on the Longworth-Roosevelt nuptials. There is no denying that Winston Churchill is the "coming man" in English politics. For many years he has been considered the prize matrimonial "catch" by English matrons with eligible daughters.

Mr. Churchill remained heart free until he met the beautiful Miss Clementine Hozier. This young English statesman is the happiest man in the kingdom for the date of his marriage has been set for September 15.

Miss Hozier is the daughter of the late Sir Henry Hozier, who, after a distinguished military career became secretary of the Lloyd's. She is a clever musician and speaks half a dozen languages fluently. Among her cousins is the Earl of Airlie. Mr. Churchill's wedding will make the fourth ministerial wedding in a year.

BRYAN FLAYS CANNON IN HOT SPEECH IN SPEAKER'S DISTRICT

OLNEY, Ill., Sept. 10.—Cannon was made an issue of the campaign today by Bryan. Seldom has the presidential candidate used bitter or more sarcastic language characterizing a mere candidate to congress.

Cannon's declaration that Bryan had become a millionaire as the result of politics has plainly angered

Bryan. Bryan explained during his speeches that at the outside he is worth $150,000. He explained how it was earned, referred sarcastically to Cannon's reputed wealth and demanded that he take the public into his confidence and show what he is worth and how he got it. He said he

Pink Hawley will pitch the game on Elliott Day.

If there is one thing that can be depended upon to bring out a crowd at the ball park here, it is the announcement that Pink is to occupy the slab, and the announcement received by President Elliott this morning in a telegram from Hawley that the big manager has decided to officiate was received with evident pleasure by the president.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Roosevelt's African trip will be dramatized before the trip has been made. It will be made the subject for the "Mimic World of 1909." Addison Burkhardt will write the book and Melville Ellis will furnish the music. Rudyard Kipling will share Teddy's adventures. The production will be put on by the Shuberts.

FRAMING UP FIGHT

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 10.—Coincident with the filing of an answer today of the Standard Oil company's petition for rehearing before the judges of the circuit court of appeals Bonaparte and Commissioner of Corporations Smith were in consultation with Roosevelt, who is believed to be aiding in the plans to pin Standard down. With these at luncheon at Sagamore Hill are, Paul Morton, Medill McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, John Ridgeley Carter, Secretary of the Embassy of Great Britain, Lawrence F. Abbott and Congressman Herbert Parsons.

DYNAMITERS OF FISH CANNOT BE TRIED IN COUNTY

DECISION OF JUDGE BRINDLEY ANNOUNCED TODAY

DEFENDANTS ARE PROMINENT

FORMER MAYOR OF COCHRANE ONE OF PRISONERS

WILL START DAMAGE SUIT

Attorneys for the Defense Say Action for $10,000 for False Imprisonment Will Be Inaugurated

Basing his conclusion upon a supreme court decision, County Judge John Brindley has decided that Charles Huber, prominent banker, business man and former mayor of Cochrane, Wis., and William Krause and Herman Schwark, leading farmers and business men of Buffalo City, Wis., cannot be tried here for dynamiting fish in Buffalo county. Judge Brindley so decided today. As a result the defendants will start an action for $10,000 damages, based on their arrest without a warrant and being brought to La Crosse for an offense committed in another county.

The men were arrested some time ago by the state game warden charged with dynamiting fish in Belvidere slough, in Buffalo county, tributary to the Mississippi river. At the time of their appearance before Judge Brindley the question arose as to the legality of arresting a man for a crime alleged to have been committed in Buffalo county and bringing him to La Crosse county for trial.

Cannot Be Tried Here.

A motion to dismiss the case was made by Attorneys E. C. Raymond and A. C. Wolfe, who appeared for the defendants, on the grounds that the alleged crime was committed in Running slough, which is a tributary to Belvidere slough, and not in Belvidere slough, as alleged in the complaint, and that the first process was served in Buffalo county and that on these grounds the men could not be tried here. They maintained that the warden had no right to bring the men to La Crosse, because the alleged crime was not committed in the main river, but in a tributary which, according to a supreme court decision, is not a part of the river. To support this argument they quoted the following extract from Vol. 120, Wisconsin reports 1903-04:

Quotes from Wisconsin Reports.

"Case of Franzini, Respondent, vs. Layland and Others, Appellants. 'The term "Mississippi river" used in the enabling act (ch. 89, p. 56, 9 U. S. States at large), descriptive of the boundary between this state and the state of Minnesota, applies to the broad expanse of water flowing in a generally southerly direction, known at the date of such act as such river, not any bayou upon either side thereof."

This decision that was rendered by Circuit Judge Fruit in Vernon county and which was later confirmed by the supreme court of this state, Judge Brindley withheld announcement of his decision until Saturday, but has found for the defendants.

The decision is of more than usual importance, as it will settle for some time the argument as to what is really meant by the term "Mississippi river." It also shows definitely that a man will have to be tried in the county in which the arrest is made.

Will Start Suit for Damages.

As a sequel to the case it has been announced by Attorneys E. C. Raymond and A. C. Wolfe that a damage suit for $10,000 will be started soon, the defendants basing their suit on their arrest.

rant, and their being brought to La Crosse for trial where they were held for some time.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 10.—Slight showers reported from a number of points gives a slight relief in the fire situation. Only a soaking rain will put out the fires.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 10.—The fires in Douglas county are dying out and there is no alarm.

LA FOLLETTE CLAUSE IN HEPBURN DECLARED VOID BY JUDGE GRAY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—The commodity clause of the Hepburn act under which the government brought suit against half a dozen railroads owning coal mines in Pennsylvania, to oust them from specific ownership of the properties, was knocked out today in a 20,000 word opinion handed down by Judge Gray, of the United States circuit court. The bills of complaint, filed by the government, were dismissed. Briefly the constitutionality of the law was attacked on the ground that it is contrary to states' rights, and therefore illegally interferes with the power of the sov-

DAVIS IS ARRESTED IN RUSTIN CASE

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—Charles Edward Davis was yesterday afternoon placed under arrest in the Rustin murder mystery.

Davis was booked as a suspicious character, but was released on bonds this morning. He was not given a hearing because the county attorney postponed the action until the police could get more evidence in the Rustin killing. He now considers the case against Davis weak. Mrs. Rustin is still held in jail as witness against Davis.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating for two hours this afternoon, returned the following verdict in the case:

"We find that the late Frederick Rustin came to his death by a gun shot at about 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning, Sept. 2, at or near his residence, 4108 Farnam street. "We are clearly of the opinion that the shot was fired by some man with the intention of producing death. Also as to the manner or by whom the shot was fired, it is our opinion that the evidence is too indefinite to ascertain, but we recommend that the authorities continue to make a thorough investigation as to the conduct of Charles Davis in connection with the circumstances pertaining to the death of Frederick Rustin and particularly about the time of the shooting."

Rustin's Policies Lapsed.

Indications are that Dr. Rustin died a useless death and that most of the insurance policies, to secure the money for which he died, have lapsed and are no longer in force. Only the day before he died, one policy for $1,000 lapsed because of non-payment of premiums. He had told the agent to call at his office the following day and he would make a reinstatement application, but this came too late.

PROCHRASKA MAY BE ONE WHO TRIED TO ROB GOVERNOR

MADISON POLICE BELIEVE PRISONER IDENTICAL

WORKED SAME GAME THERE

MADISON CHIEF AND CHIEF WEBER IN COMMUNICATION

THE BOHEMIAN IS CONVICTED

Man Who Sought "German Dentist" is Found Guilty; Worked Same Trick in Madison

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Madison police believe Jaroslav Prochraska, held at La Crosse for burglary, after entering houses on the pretext of searching for a German dentist, is the same man who entered the home of Governor Davidson on the same pretense. They have been communicating with Chief Weber of La Crosse and are practically certain the prisoner is the same man, and a clever criminal.

Jaroslav Prochraska was tried in circuit court today and convicted by the jury of burglarizing the Lenehan boarding house and other homes in the residence section of the city. The taking of evidence and the arguments of the attorneys was completed yesterday and the prisoner's case was given to the jury this morning when court convened. The jury returned the verdict of guilty at 11:30.

Prochraska has not yet been sentenced, and probably will not be until it is thoroughly established through the police department that he is the same grafter who worked in Madison. If this is proved he will probably receive a severe sentence. It is likely, however, that if he had been guilty of only a first offense and had not been connected with the Madison robberies, he would have received a minimum sentence.

Louis Kohlitz, charged with perjury, is on trial today and it is expected that this case will consume some time.

Kohlitz testified falsely in justice court in a suit for wages, according to District Attorney Bosshard's charge. Attorneys C. L. Hood and Judge John Daniels are appearing for the defendant.

The following jury will decide the case: J. Becker, W. L. Burton, Alex Metcalf, Otto Loeffler, G. E. Ash, Henry Schroeder, John Ott, F. Kohn, J. L. Garder, George Wright and C. B. Gesell.

TWO FAMOUS RESORTS IN FOREST FIRE ZONE

MARINETTE, Wis., Sept. 10.—Two of the most famous hunting and fishing resort in America are threatened by forest fires. Corey and Mabelle Gilman spent their honeymoon.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, and dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. GANS KNOCKED OUT IN TWENTY-FIRST

JOE IS IN DOWN AND OUT CLUB AND QUITS RING

DANE IS TOO FAST FOR HIM

Nelson Clinches Claim on the Championship by Decisive Victory Over Old Opponent

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 10.—Batting Nelson clinched his claim to the lightweight pugilistic championship by defeating Joe Gans for the second time here yesterday. The fight ended in the 21st round when Gans, beaten down by a succession of blows from his sturdy conqueror, failed to get upon his feet within the count of ten.

The veteran colored fighter was severely punished, but the champion, too, bore the marks of battle. From the first clang of the gong to the last moment, Nelson forced the fighting, never giving ground and gradually battering down his older and less vigorous opponent.

Gans succumbed in the 21st round after being unmercifully trounced. Nelson in this round rained right and left blows to the jaw and body and Gans sank to the floor. Mechanically the negro watched Referee Eddie Smith wave his hands, apparently too far gone to hear him count. Not until the count of ten was finished did Gans, ashen pale, his face terribly cut and his eyes glassy, attempt to rise. He realized, however, that it was too late and feebly declared: "I have positively fought my last battle."

Fight Is Spectacular.
The fight was spectacular and at no time did it appear that Gans had a chance to win. Time and again he would shoot wicked punches to Nelson's face and body, but the latter never for an instant wavered. Failing to arrest the rushing champion at any stage, Gans seemed to lose heart and gradually weakened, though he often rallied and fought back fiercely.

Referee Smith after the fight gave the following statement: "Gans was all in after the ninth round. In the twenty-first both the timekeeper and myself counted ten, therefore making Nelson the winner. Gans, I believe, did not know he was counted out, but it is just as well that he was, as Nelson had him completely at his mercy and it was useless for the colored man to take a further beating."

Gans Battered.
When Gans was seen in his dressing room, his face presented a terrible picture. His right eye was closed, the left partially so; his lips and nose were badly lacerated and his face was puffed out like an inflated balloon. He gave the following statement: "I made one fight too many. Nelson is a tough boy and beat me fairly. I will never fight again. This is no 'Patti farewell' but in dead earnest."

End Near in Ninth.
Willie Keefe, one of Gans' principal seconds, said after the fight: "Gans was in after the ninth round. In the eleventh I begged him to allow me to toss the sponge into the ring. This he would not allow me to do, saying he preferred to be knocked out and would fight as long as he had the strength to stand up. For eleven rounds Gans fought on his courage alone, as he could not land a damaging punch."

Nelson said: "Gans was tougher than before. He was in good shape and he fought me a different kind of a fight. From now on I will never fight a colored man again. I shook hands with Billy Papke today and we both made the compact. "I hurt my right hand in the round, but kept on going it regardless of the pain."

MARINE CORPS CONTINUES WELL

SEAGIRT, N. J., Sept. 10.—The United States Marine corps continued its winning streak, capturing the two events of the Seagirt shooting tournament in which it was entered, the Cruikshank trophy match and the Spencer match. In the other event on the program, a revolver match open to all comers, J. A. Dietz of New York landed in first place.

With the sun shining brightly and a large field of spectators watching the progress of the competition, the Cruikshank match, open to teams of six, the members firing seven shots at 200, 500 and 600 yards, was the first event called. The marine corps took the lead at the start and maintained it consistently throughout the contest, winning handsly with a score of 586. The United States marine corps, second team, was second with a score of 562.

In the Spencer match, a squared individual contest, fifteen shots at a thousand yards, there were ninety-five competitors. Sergt. J. W. Hingle of the marine corps, scored 74 out of a possible 75, and thereby earned the gold medal. Second prize went to Capt. Owen Smith of New Jersey, who also scored 74. Third prize was won by Sergt. J. E. Bryant of New York, with 71; and fourth prize by Lieut. Col. C. B. Winder of Ohio, with 71.

By winning the all comers squabbling revolver match, J. A. Dietz of New York, who finished in the lead in 1906 and again last year, gained the trophy as permanent property.

this morning the stableman found Weems unconscious. He was taken to a hospital and is not expected to live.

ATTELL CRITICISED FOR HIS DEFENSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 10.—Moran's manager, Charlie Harvey, tried to get Abe Attell to sign up for a forty-five round return match with the British champion, but Attell refused, saying he would not sign for more than twenty-five rounds.

Moran probably will go east on the vaudeville circuit, but if he does not he has an offer to fight Freddie Welsh at Goldfield. The sports here severely condemn Attell for his defensive style of fighting. They claim the champion should meet his opponents halfway and do some real fighting.

Attell contented himself with outpointing the Briton and evidently thought he could get the decision without taking any risks. He said: "I had $1,000 up on myself, so why should I take any chances when I knew that I outpointed him in nearly every round and landed the most punishing blows?" Attell gained much credit by his game fight with Nelson, but he threw this away Monday.

ROPE IN SPORTS BY FAKE BOUT

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Sept. 10.—The fight between Young Peter Jackson and Al Neil here scheduled to go twenty-five rounds, was stopped by the sheriff when it became apparent the bout was a rank fake. The crowd which had paid admission was enraged and Goldfield sports were looking for Jackson, whom they believed to be the chief offender, for the purpose of demanding restitution.

With the sun shining brightly and a large field of spectators watching the progress of the competition, the Cruikshank match, open to teams of six, the members firing seven shots at 200, 500 and 600 yards, was the first event called. ELLIOTT DAY

The alacrity with which Elliott day
is being promised support from the baseball enthusiasts of our neighboring cities and villages is a fine
testimonial to the dominance of the national game in this section and argues well for the continuation of professional ball in La Crosse.From almost every town here-
about have come letters extending the hope that the celebration may be a success and promising large attendance of their local fans. The outlook is for a fine success, and the baseball management proposes to insure the fastest sort of ball for the entertainment of the visitors.Baseball is truly called the national game. It is a powerful factor in the American education. It develops the spirit of untiring endeavor. It promotes home loyalty, for every city and town swears by its ball team. It builds for muscle and courage and perseverance. It is the subject upon which, as a nation, we are most firmly unified today.To the people who will come here Saturday to enjoy Elliott day, we say that they are lending their thought and enthusiasm to the promotion of an influence which is one of the most potent forces for the strengthening of our national character, and that they are participating in a laudable effort to build up
in this section a baseball interest which is at once its best advertisement and its most pleasing and profitable entertainment.

EXIT, THE INSANE "FOURTH"

The attitude of Mayor Anderson
toward Fourth of July excesses which lead to disaster is in direct line with the best thought of the times on this subject. The monstros-ity of the American day idea of a celebration, as exemplified in this national holiday which annually
costs more lives than the Spanish-American war, we believe to be expressive of an apathy on the part of parents and officials which has its foundation in failure to appreciate the extent of the yearly recurring calamity for which it is responsible.Last July Mayor Anderson placed the matter before the public in the form of a request based upon a dignified and non-sensational statement of facts, resting upon his confidence in the good sense of the people for their acquiescence. That his request was ignored is regrettable,
but not surprising, for similar
efforts in cities throughout the country netted no more satisfactory results.But the mayor was in earnest regarding the matter, and there have been let slip of late inferences that he is not less so because his request was disregarded. The indication is that next July he will take the subject in hand in a mandatory manner,
executing the purposes of the administration with aggression which will be less easily evaded than his simple suggestion.The Wausau Record-Herald editorially reviews the history of the last
"Fourth," suggesting that that city
has experienced about the same disappointment met with in La Crosse,
and urging the duty of officials to intercede positively in behalf of the public safety. It says:"Statistics apparently authentic have now been gathered and published in the Journal of the American Medical Association of the casualties, deaths and injured, of the last celebration of the Independence of America, and the list, containing 5,623 names, is appalling. There have been efforts made for a number of years to dissuade the American people from the use of explosives on the Fourth of July but apparently they have gone from bad
to worse and instead of the comparatively harmless 'fire crackers'
are now using deadly guns and high explosives."It seems almost fruitless to continue the protest against this waste
without useless waste of life, but it
hooves the press of the nation to at least present the facts before the public, that it may at least know what is being done by the present insane method of celebrating the nation's holiday.There have been many eventful and epochal making battles when not nearly as many were killed and injured as on this so-called peaceful holiday and the world has sym-pathized and mourned at the horrors of war while Americans proceed to maim and kill each other in a pretense of play and amusement, and seem unable to avoid the result."Parents as a rule now see the approach of the Fourth of July withLITTLE JOURNEYS TO SUMMER

On the outskirts of Philadelphia,
nestling in the historic region of Valley Forge, is the magnificent summer home of Philander Chase Knox. It is large, roomy and together with the estate of several acres
makes one of the most ideal spots
which to enjoy the summer months.
No one enjoys this more than Mr.
Knox when he is able to do so.
The present summer Mr. Knox is spending abroad.When the Knoxs are at home they are great entertainers and very popular socially. Many intimate friends in Philadelphia frequently journey
out for a delightful call or to spend a pleasant evening. The pride of Mr. Knox's heart is his library,
which adjoins an expansive porch.
Here the great lawyer, who has made a name which will go down in history as one of the strong attorneygenerals of the United States, spends much of his leisure time.
It is estimated that Mr. Knox's home costs in the neighborhood of $40,000.horror and fear. They know that neither they nor their children are safe and yet the authorities fail to put a stop to the meretricious practice. It is time that more stringent action should be taken. Let the officers of the law forbid the use of all fireworks and explosives of any kind on the Fourth."Every one will find better ways
of enjoyment and will at least have their lives spared."

TROUBLOUS PROBLEMS OF POPULATION

(Boston Transcript.)

How many of the world's great staples are dependent on essentially pioneer conditions? Wool is a pioneer industry, dependent on the half-
occupied areas of the world, to say nothing of furs. How will the human race be fed when population has been spread over all parts of the earth available for human settlement, at an even ratio? Saskatchewan is larger than Germany, and probably fully Germany's equal in economic resources. How would the world be fed
if Saskatchewan and places like it were peopled as closely as the Kaiser's empire? This is really the wheat question, and the lumber question.
James J. Hill now estimates that in twenty years we shall be a wheat importing nation, having passed over from the lists of areas which help
to feed the world into the category
of those that somebody else must help to sustain.

An Ohio Campaign Incident

Dr. E. W. Sullivan of Cleveland,
O., a well known democrat, was one day telling a number of stories of strenuous campaigns in the Buckeye
state. "I will never forget," he said,
"a stunning tour which the late Gen.
William H. Gibson made many years ago when he was state treasurer. A short time before the campaign opened,
a shortage was discovered in the treasurer's office. It was clearly traced to a previous administration,
and really added to Gen. Gibson's reputation for integrity. He was to speak one night in a small town in western O. he, and got an unusually generous reception—brass bands,
crowded hall, cheering and all that sort of thing."I've been wondering ever since I came to your city," he said, by way of beginning, "what the republican campaign committee meant by sending me here. You are all republicans here. I want to go where there are democrats to convert." He paused and surveyed the audience. "I don't believe there is a single democrat
in this crowded hall!" he shouted.
There was a dead silence."I'll give $5 to each and every democrat who will admit it," cried
the general. A big Irishman in the rear of the hall arose and, in a mighty voice, howled: "I'm a dimmy-crat, an' faith, I don't care who knows it.""So you're a democrat," said the general. "I am," said the son of Erin.
"Then come forward and get your $5.""I don't want the money, man,"
returned the Irishman. "Put it back in the treasury where you stole it
from."The general in telling the story
—and he appreciated the joke
enough to tell it often—said that the meeting which followed was the only successful one of his trip.—

SPOTLIGHTS

Checkers Tonight.

When it is the good luck of a theatrical manager to get hold of a great success, nine times out of ten
he will ruin it by sending out two or three companies, which in most instances are inferior to the original,
the consequence is, one hears very little of the success after a year or two. In the case of "Checkers" it is different. The management of this great success maintains the one company which is the same seen in New York and all the principal cities of the United States for the past five seasons. So when this charming racing play from the book by the same name by Henry M. Blossom, Jr., visits this city it will be presented with practically the complete New York
company that marked its great success wherever it has been. "Checkers" is at the La Crosse theater tonight.

Chauncey Olcott.

Advance sale of seats Saturday
morning for the new Irish play,
"Ragged Robin," which will be presented here at the La Crosse theater
Monday, Sept. 14, with Chauncey Olcott
in the title role. A dainty Irish love story, in which the principal characters are a merry devil-may-care wanderer and the daughter of a rich farmer, is the principal theme of the play. Cleverly interwoven with this are bits of the quaintest and most beautiful folk lore, lending a poetic vein to the story that is simply fascinating. Mr. Olcott, who has placed more splendid productions of Irish drama on the stage than any man in the world, has spared neither pains nor money to make this performance the finest one of its kind,
and there is a wealth of beautiful
scenery and costumes in the piece
that makes it almost spectacular.
The songs composed for "Ragged Robin" by Mr. Olcott are said to be gems of melody and among the most popular of any he has yet written.

The Harvest Moon.

Many theater goers might shy of rural comedy offering nowadays for the reason that after having laughed
at the rapidity of the average stuff
submitted by the playwrights one feels heartily ashamed of such mirth
and this experience makes harsh criticisms. "Under the Harvest Moon"
is an antidote to the innocuous expositions made in the name of rural comedy, for each situation is interesting while creating legitimate amusement. This is one reason why this play has proved one of the successes and apart from the dramatic and comedy excellence, the company
interpreting it has had much to do with the hit it has made everywhere.
This cast calls for more than ordinary skill and intelligence on the part of the artists and the management
has supplied a company meeting every requirement. "Under the Harvest Moon" will be one of the early offerings at the La Crosse theater,
the date of its appearance in this city being Sunday, Sept. 13.

At the Bijou.

At last the director's gown has arrived in La Crosse. Miss Alva York, the dashing English comedienne who has made such a hit with Bijou audiences this week will appear in a new dress. Miss York's costume is a direct Paris importation and costs the pretty figure of $350
and is a perfect dream of the dressmaker's art. The question of the im-modesty or modesty of the director's
dress has been discussed everywhere. No piece of feminine wearing apparel has been so extensively advertised. It has been in jail and court; it has been in the pulpit; it has stopped traffic on main thoroughfares of our most populous cities; it has been the cause of lovers'
quarrels and separation of married couples; it has been the cause of accident, many men running into lamp posts in their scramble to catch a glimpse of the fleeting vision, and it has been the cause of the spilling of oceans of newspaper ink. The wearers of a sheath gowns must necessarily possess physical class. This is probably the secret reason of such vigorous protest against the directoire in some quarters. Be that as it may Bijou patrons should not miss
the opportunity presented them to see for themselves what a director's gown looks like. If the successful vogue of the director's lies in the physical charms of its wearer then Miss York has every right to this success. The director's gown is worn without petticoats. There is every indication that standing room
only will be the order of business at the Bijou tonight.

AMERICAN HUMOR.

(New York Times.)

American humor exists, it distinguishes the national character, it permeates all our affairs. It is not of aboriginal descent. It was not brought from England or Holland by the fathers. Its saving grace was the humor of Diederich Knickerbocker
is all the more taking because of the absence of all sense of humor in the subject of his chronicle.
If our humor came over from Erin
in the first rush of immigration it was quickly adapted to its new environment. It was modified and changed by new circumstances and conditions, geographical, ethnological, atmospheric. Wherever it came from, it is a boon, which saves us
from a lot of needless trouble and worry.

THE IRON LORD

A Hitherto Unpublished Story of Immense Power.

By

S. R. CROCKETT.

(Copyrighted.)

"Of course Fox and Frost would send all that they knew to the police station there. It will be waiting for us."After that they were wholly silent.
The car throbbed and jarred, but did not stop any more, till the long street
of the little town drew about them,
like an Inverness cape, and they stopped in front of the County Constabulary Station.Presently Inspector Henderson came out, looking considerably disturbed in mind."Fox and Frost are two fools!" he said, tearing the message he had received into very small pieces. "They think that coming here is only a blind, and that the cars have turned and gone back by night along the hard Ayr road. No one here has seen them. They will wire if anything is found! There is no news.
Nothing for it but to sit and suck
one's thumbs till we hear something.""I beg your pardon, Inspector,"
said Phil, "but I think we should go
on. That no one has seen them
proves nothing, for the Dalmellington folk are good sleepers.""Eh?" cried the detective, "what's that? Have you got an idea? Out with it. I never yet knew anybody's idea that wasn't, at least, worth considering. And you, young man, seem to be of a superior order."This was, indeed, praise from Sir Hubert Stanley."I don't believe they turned back at all," said Phil; "if they had, they would both have got into the big Mercedes. No, they have gone on. I know these north Galloway roads—
what isn't hard pebble and sand is rut and mud. We shall pick up their tracks where they have passed before we have gone five miles."The automobile sped on. The chauffeur had renewed his stock of fuel at Dalmellington, and soon the long valley of the Doon was laid out smoothly behind them, the landscape
passing right and left over their shoulders as the sea is divided before the rush of a fast destroyer. There was a singing of wind in their ears
when they reached the summit, and the car launched itself downwards
towards the Ken.Till now they had seen no traces of the fugitives, and Inspector Henderson began to be restless. A few minutes more and he would have given the order to turn back. But at that moment Phil pointed out something which cut in long curves into the turf of the moor-side."There they are!" he cried, "one car, at least, and badly driven."They stopped and got out. Grinding recognized in a moment the diamond criss-crossings of the tires of the smaller car—that in which James Kahn had escaped. But of the other there was no sign on the well-crowned, hard-surfaced road.The tires of the Mercedes would have left parallel ridges, and been easily distinguishable from the other. Here,
however, not a pebble was lifted.
Nothing gave evidence of anything uncommon except those occasional curves cut in the smooth turf of the wayside.

POST CARD ONLY IDENTIFICATION

AUTHORITIES ADVISE PARENTS AGAINST EXHUMING CRAIGEN

STARTED FOR MINNEAPOLIS

Decided Hurriedly to Take Freight Train Which Did Not Stop, and Was Crushed to Death

Mr. and Mrs. William Craigen returned from Granite Falls, Minn., where they investigated the death and burial of their son Thomas Craigen, who was killed the last of August. From what they learned from the hotel proprietor with whom Craigen had stopped, Craigen intended to take an early morning train to Minneapolis and then changed his mind and decided to take the afternoon passenger train. Later on in the morning Craigen told the hotel keeper that he was sorry he had not taken the earlier train and upon being told that there was a freight train due soon, he decided to take that. The freight did not stop, however, and in getting on he slipped and fell under the wheels and was killed, the body being unrecognizable, it is said.

Papers in his inside coat pocket were torn and saturated with blood, so the authorities were unable to decipher them, and the only means of identification was a postal card bearing the name "T. J. Craigen."

When Mr. and Mrs. Craigen were at Granite Falls the coroner who had charge of the case was at Minneapolis, so they were unable to get his story. The papers will be sent here by him later on. The authorities advised Mr. Craigen not to have the body disinterred, as it would be impossible to recognize him owing to the time that had elapsed and the shape that the body was in when it was buried. The relatives of the dead man expect to have the body brought to La Crosse when the cold weather comes on, as it would be impossible, according to the authorities at Granite Falls, to ship the body in warm weather.

DIES AT HOSPITAL AFTER LONG SIEGE

PETER SCHLABACH, OLD RESIDENT, JOINS MAJORITY

DECEASED WAS 82 YEARS OLD

Had Lived in This City for More Than 20 Years and Leaves Well Known Family

Peter Schlabach, 1423 George street, an old resident of the North side, passed away yesterday afternoon at the La Crosse hospital after an illness of several months.

The deceased was an old resident, having lived on the North side for over 20 years. He had been ill for some time, but appeared to be improving of late, when suddenly he grew worse. Saturday he was removed to the hospital, where death came yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Schlabach was 82 years old and an early settler in this section of the country, moving here from La Crescent, where he resided for nearly 40 years. Besides his widow he leaves nine children to mourn his death, Joseph, Fred, Edward, William, Mrs. Mary Leidel, of La Crescent; Emma of Warrens, Mo.; Otto of Boston, and Rudolph of this city. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

LAKE CITY DEPOT BURNED TO GROUND

Railroad men who go through Lake City report that the C. M. & St. P. passenger and freight depot were burned to the ground Tuesday afternoon. The inability of the fire department to cope with the blaze on account of the poor water pressure gave the flames a headway that they were unable to check and the buildings were burned to the ground.

The old freight depot was originally the passenger depot, but a number of years ago the building was moved to its present location and a new passenger depot erected. The records of the company were nearly all saved. The loss will be $2,000. The company will undoubtedly erect a modern depot and freight house to take the place of the old structure as soon as possible.

NO MEETING OF LEAGUE HELD

Owing to some misunderstanding notices for the meeting of the North Side Progressive league were not sent out and as a result there was a small attendance last evening. The attendance was too small to warrant a meeting, although there were enough members present to make a quorum. The next league meeting will probably be held at the regular time next month. A special meeting might be called, however, providing the business would warrant it. Last night was the first time in the history of the league that a meeting was not held on account of poor attendance.

GLASGOW WRECKED BY UNEMPLOYED

GLASGOW, Sept. 10.—Following a night of rioting between a mob of 7,000 unemployed and a force of mounted and foot policemen, the city today clearly shows the effects of one of the wildest scenes in its history. Beginning at midnight the mobs attempted to raid the aristocratic sections of the city. The mob broke into detachments at the first assault of the mounted police and these were chased over the town, clashes being frequent. Hundreds are believed to be injured and several deaths will undoubtedly result. A dozen ring-leaders are under arrest.

HOUSE DEMOCRATIC LLOYD TELLS BRYAN

OLNEY, Ill., Sept. 10.—That the next house of representatives will be democratic was the promise made to Bryan here today by Congressman Lloyd of Missouri, chairman of the congressional committee, who has just concluded the first preliminary canvass. It pointed out for Bryan's benefit that in every instance that the democrats captured the house, they elected the president, except in th Hayes campaign.

Bryan left Peoria at midnight and today will start a trip into Indiana. He has scheduled three speeches and several car end talks today. The first was here when he spoke to farmers and workers generally, declaring the only hope of the common people was in the democratic party.

HONOR TOLSTOI TODAY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 10.—Despite the government's prohibition of an official celebration in honor of Tolstoy's eightieth birthday, today is generally a holiday all over Russia. The efforts of the government have acted as a boomerang and only served to increase the enthusiasm by the police, people submitting at the urgent request of Tolstoy himself. The police are fearful that before night the people will attempt to disregard the prohibition placed upon them and are preparing for serious clashes. Tolstoy is spending the day quietly at his home at Yasnaya Polyana. Owing to his illness, the countess is not admitting callers to his chamber.

Your friends are often afraid to do you a favor fearing it will displease your enemy.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON ATTENDS THE FAIR

HURON, S. D., Sept. 10.—Eight thousand people heard Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota, speak for an hour at the South Dakota state fair here. He was introduced by Gov. Crawford, who referred to him as a great governor of a great state, who had won the admiration of every political party and faith. Gov. Johnson's theme was "The Necessity of a Clean and Honest Citizenship." He referred only indirectly to political issues.

The executive committee of the state democratic central committee met here. Among those present were: Chairman Dick Lyon, ex-Governor Lee, Thomas Ayres, W. T. La Follette, R. E. Dowdell, Pat Wickham, Maj. Barrett, John Hinton, William Soule, Miss Moe and W. A. Lynch. Plans for an aggressive campaign were discussed and outlined, and committees were suggested to complete arrangements.

That Was the Question
Down in Missouri Judge Wallace was addressing a meeting of prohibitionists in one of the prohibitionist hotbeds of the state. "Yes, friends," he said: "If I am elected governor of Missouri, I'll keep this state dry when and where the laws say it shall be dry! There will be no halfway."

"Hold on," cried a man in the crowd, "Anybody can keep St. Louis dry."

Just then the judge purposely overturned the ice water, and during the confusion he drifted from the subject.—Kansas City Journal

LOSS $2,000.—Capt. Fugina, owner of the Rutledge, which collided with the bridge at Winona while following the steamer La Crosse through without whistling, estimates the damage to his boat, including loss of business at $2,000. The boat is now being repaired at Winona, and will finish the season in tow work at Stillwater.

GULLICKSON O. K.—There was some question among republican politicians whether or not Peter Gullickson, democratic candidate for senator against Thomas Morris, had sufficient votes in the primaries to insure his getting onto the official ballot, owing to the fact that he was not on the primary ballot and had to be written in by supporters. In La Crosse and Trempealeau counties, constituting the district, he needs 131 votes. He received 80 in La Crosse county and without question received the necessary 51 in Trempealeau county, although the returns have not been received as yet.

KENOSHA GIRL IS
VICTIM OF ASSAULT

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—As the result of a savage attack in which she sustained more than forty wounds, Miss Anna Doherty, a member of one of the old time families of Kenosha, is in critical condition in the Kenosha hospital.

Henry Bushman, her confessed assailant, was hurried to Racine last night in a closed automobile to evade the crowds which thronged the streets. Twenty special policemen were sworn in, but proved ineffectual in dispersing the street gatherings, and a cordon of regular police was drawn about the county jail with orders to prevent all persons from approaching nearer than one block.

The attack occurred early yesterday morning. Miss Doherty was returning from a downtown medicine show to her home in the southern end of Ashland avenue when Bushman, who was intoxicated, accosted her. When she started to run he caught her, gagged her with his free hand, and dragged her nearly a quarter of a mile to a deserted place, where he beat her into insensibility.

SMITH THE CANDIDATE

STANDARD OIL HOT IN REPLY TO GOV'T REHEARSING APPEAL

published rate. What the court said was that the amendments to the interstate commerce act have had the effect of making more imperative the adherence by both carriers and shippers to the rates established. In other words, it was not a duty to ascertain the rates which the court there held was imposed, but to adhere to them.

Part II.
The exceptions which counsel take to the statement of the opinion of this court with respect to the rulings of the trial court upon the question of knowledge on the part of the accused shipper of the lawful rate, are based on a misapprehension of the opinion. The material question is: "Does the opinion pass upon the same questions which the trial court so ruled upon?"

After quoting from the records and instructions to the jury, to show that evidence as to the knowledge of the Standard's traffic manager as to the legal rate was not submitted to the jury, the answer continues:

"The trial court ruled and charged that the proof need not establish that the defendant had actual knowledge of the lawful rates; and this, notwithstanding the fact that the indictment alleges such knowledge, and charged the defendant knowingly accepted and received the alleged unlawful concessions."

"This ruling not only plainly took from the government the burden of showing such knowledge, but it took from the defendant the benefits of any evidence or showing of the want of such knowledge. It is the counsel for the government and not this court, as the counsel charge, who have proceeded upon a misapprehension of what evidence was in fact submitted to the jury as shown by the record."

Part III.
The argument of the counsel for the government does not define what they contend the rule of law should be upon the question of knowledge or intent, as applied to this case.

Counsel for the government are mistaken in their contention that the trial court's ruling was that the shipper "will not be permitted to avail himself of the defense of ignorance, where that ignorance is the result of negligence or the wilful failure to resort to the sources of information which are available."

The trial court could not secure rule and at the same time exclude the testimony of Hollands, the Alton rate clerk, that he was of the opinion that six cents per hundred pounds was the oil rate.

Part IV.
The petitioners say: "As to that portion of the opinion relating to the number of offenses we suggest that the case should be opened for reargument, that there may be a more definite statement of the rule to be applied."

Does the opinion leave one in the slightest doubt? Certainly not. The evidence showed that transportation charges were paid by the shipper every half month. There were no more offenses of accepting concession than there were settlements, which the proofs showed to be thirty-six in number.

Part V.
The petitioners seek to demonstrate its inaccuracy by quoting from the opinion of the trial court that "this court is obliged to confess that he is unable to indulge the presumption that in this case the defendant was convicted of its virgin offense."

It is obviously a matter of no consequence as affecting the ruling of this court whether the trial court here referred to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, which it said was "the real defendant," or the Standard Oil company of Indiana, which it characterized as "the nominal defendant."

But there is good grounds for the assertion that the trial court referred to the New Jersey company.

The real point is: Did the trial court, in imposing punishment, take into consideration the relation between the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and did it base its fine upon the wealth of Standard Oil company of New Jersey?

That the enormous fine inflicted upon the defendant was because the ownership of its stock by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and because of the financial standing of the latter corporation, is beyond dispute.

pute when the entire opinion of the trial court is read.
The action of the trial court in fixing the fine which this court holds to be an abuse of discretion, is defended by counsel.
Counsel can find no authority to support that which the trial court did and this court condemns in fixing the unheard of fine.
Part VI.
As to the suggestion of counsel that this court grant a rehearing in order to certify the question to the supreme court for its instruction we beg to say:
The counsel urge upon this court as a ground for allowing their petition for a rehearing that the court may certify to the supreme court for its instruction the following question:
"Whether shippers who pay a rate under the honest belief that it is the lawful established rate when it is not, are liable under the statute."
This court having decided the case pending before it and reversed and remanded the case for a new trial, and so having made up its mind and determined the question involved, it is submitted that the suggestion of certification in a petition for rehearing, as the ground thereof, is not a proper one to be made or entertained.

Twice as Many Membership Tickets Yesterday as During First Day Last Season

WEST SALEM, Wis., Sept. 10. (Special.)—Between 2,500 and 3,000 people today attended the La Crosse County fair here, and from present indications the fair will be the most successful ever held from a standpoint of revenue, attendance and general satisfaction. There were twice as many membership tickets taken in yesterday as the first day last year, and the attendance today shows a marked increase.

The "parade of years" this morning showing the stages of development from fifty years ago, and the addresses by various ex-officers was one of the pleasant features of the day, including the historical talk by A. J. Phillips. This was followed by a short address by Hon. J. J. Esch of La Crosse, who won hearty applause by complimenting the directors upon the excellence of the fair and the general prosperity of the county. The judging of stock ended the program.

After dinner the 2:35 pace, three minute trot, 5/8 mile dash, pony race, motorcycle race, farmers race, and the running races and cadet drills went to make up a most attractive program. The Melrose baseball team and Athletes of La Crosse are also scheduled to decide the championship of western Wisconsin this afternoon.

Everything in connection with the fair went off in the smoothest possible way and the directors and officers of the fair are especially well pleased.

Friday, the closing day, promises to be the biggest of the week.

Friday's Program.

10 a. m.—Judging of matched carriage teams, and best teams for all purposes.

11 a. m.—Band concerts.

12 m.—Noon.

There will also be different amusement contests and band concerts between races. Special program for contests, amusements, etc.

oreign commonwealth to conduct its own business.

From beginning to end the majority of the opinion is a clean knockout for the government. Judge McPherson dissented, but did not write his opinion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—The commodity clause of the Hepburn act prohibits common carriers from engaging in any other business than transportation and required absolute abandonment of coal, oil, or other business after May 1 of this year. In accordance with the agreement the enforcement clause was suspended pending the decision of the supreme court on its constitutionality. The promptness with which the court acted at Philadelphia today is pointed to by the department officials as assuring early consideration by the United States supreme court. The clause which is at issue was the idea of Senator R. M. La Follette, of Wisconsin.

presumed if the republicans succeed and Cannon is elected, he will again be speaker.

"Cannon represents what is known the the standpoint idea in politics and represents the theory that when all is well nothing needs to be changed. Every predatory corporation is praying for Cannon's success. Every man feasting on privileges and fattening on government favoritism is anxious that he be elected in this district and that the republicans carry congress."

Bryan assailed Cannon's position on the election of senators by direct vote, his standpoint on the tariff and opposition to publicity of campaign contributions and expenditures. It is estimated that 30,000 heard Bryan here.

Referring to his wealth he said: "I was worth $3,000 when elected to congress; I served four years, and by economy saved between $3,000 and $4,000. During the period between the end of my congressional term and my nomination for the presidency, about a year and four months, I was engaged in speaking and lecturing and added but a small sum to my savings."

"After the election of '96, my earning power as a lecturer was greatly enhanced. My book on the first battle brought $17,000 and I gave an equal amount of the profits

MAY DROP PARADE IN FEAR OF RIOTS

BLOODSHED THREATENED IF CATHOLICS MARCH

PROTESTANT ALLIANCE ACTS

Invokes Law to Prevent Parade and English Government Is Shocked at Unreasonable Step

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Fearing a hostile demonstration as a result of the agitation by the Protestant alliance, the cardinals in attendance at the Eucharist congress conferred today as to the wisdom of abandoning the great parade which was scheduled for Sunday, and was to have been the most brilliant feature of the congress. Personally, the cardinals and other high churchmen are not afraid, but owing to the inflamed state of mind of Protestant radicals, they realize the possibility of bloodshed and rioting attending the parade.

The activity of the Protestant alliance in invoking the old English law, which has been considered a dead letter for years, against a Catholic demonstration, has aroused a feeling of resentment all over the empire. The home office would have paid no attention had the alliance not forced the issue. The king ignored the protest, and Herbert K. Gladstone, secretary of the home office, and the commissioner of police were willing to disregard the law, even though a threatened suit by the alliance may remove them from office.

"Lectures have been profitable and my writings paid me well. I estimate my property at $150,000 at the outside limit. I am willing to leave it to the public to determine whether I earned it honestly."

Bryan then criticized Cannon's career and declared he began holding office in 1861, when Bryan was a year old. He said he had been drawing a salary for 35 years and that members of congress thought it so inadequate that it had recently been increased. "If he can tell us how much he is now worth, we can guess how much he might have been worth had he been free to devote his talents to money making."

WRIGHT BREAKS 2 RECORDS IN A DAY

AVIATOR CINCHES ASCENDENCY AS A FLYING MAN

GOVERNMENT MEN PLEASED

Wonderful Feats of Aerial Navigator the Marvel of Experts Who Watch and Participate

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—Following his marvelous morning flight of 57 minutes and 31 seconds, Orville Wright sustained a second continuous flight in his new aeroplane over the grounds at Fort Meyer late yesterday afternoon for sixty-two minutes and fifteen seconds. It is estimated that in the flight he made forty-three miles.

Ten minutes later, without alteration to his aeroplane and without additional fuel, he made a flight of six minutes and twenty-six seconds with Lieut. Lahm of the signal corps, U. S. A., as a companion.

These are world's records for heavier-than-air machines made by an American inventor and aviator and on American soil. Tonight America leads the world in aeronautics. Official Washington is in a ferment of patriotic enthusiasm, and Wright is cheered as he walks the streets.

In the official test he will be required to carry one passenger and now feels sure he will meet requirements. Wright is taking a day off and will probably not make another flight before tomorrow afternoon or Saturday.

Officials Praise Flight.

Patriotic exultation was the first sentiment manifested by Orville Wright when he turned the official records of his flight.

"I am glad that I have made the longest flight in this country, and that America holds the record. My brother, Wilbur, in France will be delighted also. We always wanted to make the record in this country and not abroad."

Secretaries Wright, Metcalf and Straus witnessed the record-making flight late this afternoon. Their enthusiasm is boundless.

"It was wonderful and marvelous. I did not believe it possible," they exclaimed in unison.

Glad He Made Good.

Secretary Straus was one of the first to grasp the hand of Wright when he stepped from the machine at the conclusion of his longest flight.

"Let me congratulate you," he said. "You stand first in the world today in your line. It was a marvelous exploit, great for you and great for your country. As a fellow countryman I rejoice with you."

"I am glad," responded Wright. "I have met all the requirements for the acceptance of the machine by the government, all that we have promised, except that it shall carry two persons, and this it will do. My brother and I have labored hard for this day. Your satisfaction repays us in part."

of the moment he struck her upon the head with a flatiron. Fearing detection he sought the best means of covering his crime and finding an old trunk, dismembered the body, severing the arms, legs and head. He then packed in the members as closely as he could, even going to the extent of severing the flesh from the limbs in order to better fill the trunk. He had planned to take a boat leaving Boston and when well out at sea to drop the parts of the body overboard one at a time, and thus hide the hideous crime, but the plan miscarried. The boat he had expected to take was withdrawn for

JOHN LIENLOKKEN DIES IN MONTANA

OPERATION FATAL TO FORMER LA CROSSE BANKER

HE OWNED LIENLOKKEN BANK

Deceased, After Panic of Nineties, Went West and Engaged in Land Business in the Dakotas

John Lienlokken, formerly a resident of La Crosse, died Wednesday night at Evaro, Mont., where he had gone several months ago to embark in mercantile business. News of Mr. Lienlokken's death was entirely unexpected, as members of the family had received no intimation of his illness. The cause of his death is not known, the only information received being that Mr. Lienlokken died following an operation, the nature of which was not stated. Funeral arrangements will not be made until more detailed information is at hand. S. A. Lienlokken of St. Paul, a son, has gone to Evaro.

John Lienlokken was born in the parish of Oir, Gudbrandsdalen, Norway, in 1841. His father, Ingabret Lienlokken, came to America in 1860 and settled in the town of Washington, La Crosse county. John Lienlokken was town clerk of Washington seven years previous to 1874, when he came to La Crosse and entered the office of county treasurer, a post in which he remained for five two-year terms. He began business as a private banker, having served for a number of years as cashier of the Union National bank. The panic years of the nineties resulted disastrously for Mr. Lienlokken, and in 1896 his bank was forced to the wall. Later he went to South Dakota and at Bradley engaged in the land business. From there he went to Webster, S. D., and became assistant cashier of the First National bank of that place, where he remained until early this year.

Mr. Lienlokken was married in 1866 to Miss Martha Stenerson of the town of Washington. Mrs. Lienlokken died Sept. 29, 1900. Four sons and three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Theodore Thompson of La Crosse, Miss Irene of La Crosse, Miss Edna of St. Paul, Edward of Minneapolis, Adolph, Sigvart A. and Oscar, all residents of St. Paul.

the season and did not make its trip. Jordan then sought a hackman, who drove him to a rooming house, where he lodged for the night. The cabman was suspicious of the trunk and having heard of the numerous black hand murders which have been attracting so much attention, he reported the matter to the police, who went to the rooms. Jordan was not there at the time and the police waited until his return. They then demanded that he open the trunk and in the coolest manner possible he raised the lid and then sank to the floor and confessed his guilt.

Hogan to Attend.

Hon. James J. Hogan, chairman of the honorary committee, announced to President Elliott today that he had deferred an intended trip out of the city in order to be present at the celebration. A special section in the grandstand will be reserved for the use of the committee, the members of which are requested to call at The Tribune office upon their arrival in the city.

President Elliott today announced that those of "fan age" among the boys at St. Michael's orphanage have been invited to attend the game as the guests of the baseball association.

The entry of amateurs from teams in villages and cities outside La Crosse is said this morning to have come up to the highest anticipations of the association officials, while local amateurs have entered freely, the athletes alone having five entries.

The Program.

The completed program is as follows.

Fungo batting.

Long distance throwing.

Running the bases.

Fifty yard dash.

Practice by the team.

Parade of baseball clubs in the field, including all players belonging to the La Crosse and Madison teams, visiting ball players in uniform and the board of directors.

Short address by Vice President McHoney.

Response by President John Elliott.

First and second prizes will be given in each of the events scheduled.

The program will begin at 2:15 and the ball game between La Crosse and Madison will be called at 3:30.

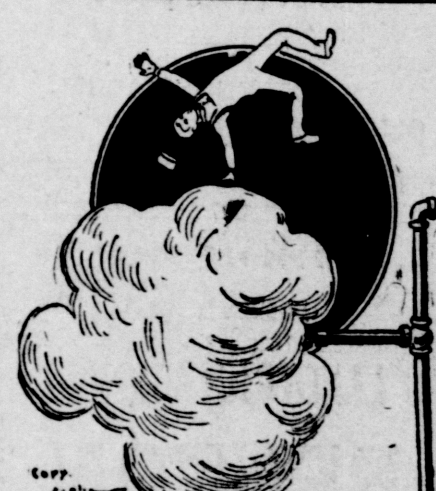

Elliott Day affords entertainment for everybody, whether fans or not, as the athletic contests are of a nature to be enjoyed by those who have little or no knowledge of baseball as well as by the fans. It is expected that it will be particularly entertaining for ladies, of whom a large attendance is expected.

The city pay roll for the last month, due Friday, will be more than $14,000, as a result of the primary election being held in this period. The vouchers are being prepared at the office of the city clerk today.

PEACE WITH FORAKER, WAR ON WITH COX

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—Political war and peace were well mixed in Taft's first campaign today at his home. The outlook today is for peace with Foraker, with the support of the Taft ticket. Foraker on the stump in Ohio, but open war with Geo. B. Cox of Cincinnati. There was anger in the Taft headquarters on receipt of the information that Cox had hitherto and two lieutenants, Prud Hynica and August Herrmann, named as a special committee to confer with Taft, and aid him in the campaign. The three men are those who were mercilessly arraigned in a speech by Taft at Akron in 1905.

"There is no necessity for a local committee. I take it that the committee was appointed on the belief that the front porch campaign is to be made," declared Taft. The candidate now faces a real war with the republican organization of his own city.

GIVES HIS LIFE TO DEFEND CO.'S SAFE

BISMARCK, Mo., Sept. 10.—Henry Calliott, operator at the Iron Mountain depot, successfully resisted two masked robbers this morning, but may die as the result of the encounter. Calliott was startled at the command to throw up his hands. Instead of complying, he made a dive for a revolver and opened fire upon the bandits. In the duel which followed he was probably fatally wounded. The robbers fled without attempting to crack the safe, which contained several hundred dollars.

GLAD HE LED LYNCHING MOB.

OXFORD, Miss., Sept. 10.—"I led the mob which lynched Neise Patton last night and I'm proud of it," said ex-United States Senator W. V. Sullivan.

"I directed every movement of the mob, and did everything I could to see that he was lynched."

"He cut a white woman's throat. He is a negro. Of course I wanted him lynched. I saw his body dangling from a tree this morning and I'm glad of it."

"When I heard of the horrible crime, I started to work immediately to get a mob. I did all I could to raise one. I was at the jail last night and I heard Judge Roane advise against lynching. I got up immediately after and urged the mob to lynch Patton."

"I aroused the mob and directed them to storm the jail. I had my revolver, but did not use it. I gave it to a deputy sheriff and told him: 'Shoot Patton, and shoot to kill.' He used the revolver and shot. I suppose the bullets from my gun were some of those that killed the negro."

"I don't care what investigation is made, or what are the consequences. I am willing to stand them."

"I wouldn't mind standing the consequences any time for lynching a man who cut a white woman's throat. I will lead a mob in such a case any time."

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

GETAWAY IS MADE BY TWO YEGGMEN

FIRE IN NORTHERN WOODS GIVES THEM CHANGE

DURING RAID ONE MAN SHOT

Was Seriously Injured by Their Bullets

BIWABIK, Minn., Sept. 10.—With the people of the entire Mesaba range excited to the highest pitch by the great fires, it is evident that the yeggmens who attempted to rob the First National bank here have been allowed to get out of the country. Peter Holland, the citizen shot by one of the robbers, is apparently recovering in the local hospital.

When taken there it was thought there was little hope for Holland, six buckshot having passed through him and several having doubtless torn the intestines. He continues to rest well, and the physicians are hopeful, although saying that it is altogether possible that the yeggmens will yet be charged with murder.

Blood hounds brought here from Superior, Wis., lost the trail of the robbers a mile out of town. Four times the dogs went to the same place and each time losing the sent at a creek that runs through the location. Three detectives are now on the ground working on the case, on the theory that some local person or persons were implicated in the affair. A man giving the name of Johnson has been arrested at Mesaba, a small village twenty miles from here, and is being held on suspicion. The fellow told the people of Mesaba that he was a detective working on the case, and he was promptly detained.

The robbers got little returns for their work. Nothing of value is missing from the safety deposit boxes that were smashed.

STATE DISMISSES FITZGERALD CASE

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The case against Geo. W. Fitzgerald, accused of stealing $173,000 from the United States treasury, was dismissed today by Judge Chetlain after Sub-treasurer William Boldenweck refused to produce the records of his office as evidence. When the court dismissed the case, he stated in the hearing that the evidence this time would prejudice the investigation now being made by the government. He declared the government's interest was paramount to the state's, and that the latter had not the right to embarrass it by insisting that the case be pushed.

Attorney Litzinger for Fitzgerald protested against the dismissal but the objection was overruled. The dismissal came suddenly. Before the case convened Judge Chetlain conferred in his private office with the federal and state attorneys. Sub-treasurer Boldenweck was asked to produce the books from his office showing the money Fitzgerald had on hand the day the $173,000 disappeared. He refused to do so, stating he had been so instructed by the United States attorneys.

The question was raised whether Fitzgerald could again be arrested, but his attorney said his liberty had not been placed in jeopardy in this case, inasmuch as it was merely a preliminary hearing and no jury had been empaneled.

WARNING IS ISSUED GOPHER FARMERS

STATE IS IN DANGER OF GRASS-HOPPER PLAGUE

PLOWING WILL PREVENT IT

To Destroy Eggs of Pest the Ground Should be Turned Over in Late Fall or Early Spring

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Sept. 10.—Grasshoppers have been causing considerable uneasiness in this locality lately, and a letter just received from State Entomologist Washburn says:

"I note that grasshoppers have been troublesome this season and the outlook for next year is somewhat alarming, unless measures are taken to prevent an outbreak. I would therefore suggest that the farmers who note grasshoppers laying eggs this month or early next month, in their land, should not fail to plow as late as possible after all eggs have been laid, thus turning them under and preventing them from issuing next spring. It is not only necessary to plow the stubble, but other land not used, should the grasshoppers be seen laying eggs in sufficient abundance to warrant it, for if not, though the careful farmer should plow his own land, they would of course come from the unused land onto his crops next summer. Furthermore, all farmers should co-operate in a vicinity, for should one farmer neglect it, he would be the means of infesting his neighbors with grasshoppers next year."

According to a law passed at the last session of the legislature, a farmer can be made to plow land which is so infested with grasshoppers as to menace other farmers as well as himself. Complaint of infested land should be made to the state entomologist or to the county commissioners. The entomologist examines the land and if conditions warrant it he reports to that effect to the county commissioners, who serve a notice upon the holder of the land, requesting him to plow within a certain time. If he fails to do this, the county plows his land, and if such plowing benefits him materially in the raising of crops, the county sues him to recover the money thus expended. Complaints of this kind should be made in the fall.

"If plowing is not done in the fall, it might be done with safety, where possible, before the 4th or 5th of May, which would be effective in ordinary seasons."

HOW TO AVOID APPENDICITIS

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels, and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. O. T. Erhart.

DREYFUS' ASSAILANT IS ON TRIAL TODAY

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Louis Gregori, the Paris journalist, who on June 4th shot Major Alfred Dreyfus during the demonstration services over the body of Zola, was placed on trial today in the court of assizes. The case was begun with such a lack of interest that it is possible it will be dropped entirely. All the interesting witnesses, including Premier Clemenceau, War Minister Piquart and Generals Andre and Dolstein failed to respond, pleading duties. Dreyfus was present, the center of an interesting group. Following Gregori's opening statement, the court adjourned.

WOMAN IS LOST IN WOODS FOR A WEEK

DURING JOURNEY MRS. JOHANNA RONDOW DISAPPEARS

SAFETY FEARED BY PEOPLE

Left Little Chute to Take an Electric Car and that Was the Last Seen of Her

KAUKAUNA, Wis., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Johanna Rondow of Green Bay disappeared from here last Tuesday, and has not been seen or heard of since. Grave fears are felt by her family for her safety.

She was visiting an old friend, Mrs. B. Kobusson, at Little Chute, and left there to return to her home, expecting to take the Green Bay electric car at Kaukauna, since which time no one who knows her has seen her.

When she did not come home as expected, her husband came here to see why she did not return, and two of her sons were here to enlist the services of Marshal Conlon in the search. She is about 45 years of age.

SUES THE BOWLING CHAMPION.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Jeanette Jones, wife of Daniel A. Jones, real estate dealer and winner of the 1905 bowling championship of the world, has sued for divorce, charging that her husband neglects her to spend his evening hours in bowling alleys, has beaten her several times, and, though he makes upwards of $1,500 a year, has given her so little money she had to take in sewing and keep boarders. She also charges cruelty. They married Sept. 11, 1895, have one child, and live at 2025 Cedar street.

The dedication of the school will take place immediately after the bishop arrives at the school.

STATE'S AID ASKED IN BUILDING ROADS

APPROPRIATION FOR IMPROVING HIGHWAYS FAVORED

STATE WORK IS COMMENDED

Also Favor University of Wisconsin Courses and Adoption of Special Instruction is Urged

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 10.—The amendment providing for state aid in the construction of public highways was indorsed by the Wisconsin State Good Roads' association at the meeting of the delegates in convention in Milwaukee.

The meeting was attended by farmers from all parts of the state. It was resolved to commend the amendment to the farmers and citizens of the state and ask their support at the fall election. The executive committee of the association was instructed to suggest to the legislature changes in state laws which will assist in bringing about good roads.

The association acknowledged the good work of the farmers' course at the state university. Resolutions asking the regents of the university to establish a practical course of instruction in good road making was adopted.

Three sessions were held in West Side Turner hall. Addresses on the subject of good roads were delivered. The chief obstacle to good roads, presented at the meetings, were the added taxes.

Mayor Rose and former Governor W. D. Hoard addressed the meeting. Governor Hoard condemned the farmer for his opposition to state aid in good road building, and showed that good roads meant a money return to the farmers, because of the ease with which goods could be brought to market, with less wear and tear on horses and vehicles. He advocated an educational campaign in favor of good roads.

Otto Dörner, Milwaukee, talked on the work of other states in giving state aid. He argued that state provision of money was the most just way of paying for roads in the country.

Senator H. S. Farle, Michigan, state highway commissioner, demonstrated that good roads mean an increase in value of horses and equipments. Under state aid in Michigan there have been four times as many roads built in the counties as under the old systems, he said. The other speakers of the convention were Thomas Emerton, president State Society of Equity; H. M. Culbertson, master of the State Grange; H. H. Gross, Illinois Farmers' Good Roads association; A. R. Hirst, state geological survey engineer, and Senator E. E. Browne. Secretary W. O. Hotchkiss of the association, answered questions of the farmers on the state law and the practical construction of good roads.

The following were elected officers of the association: President, former Governor W. D. Hoard, Fort Atkinson; treasurer, Richard G. Wagner, Milwaukee; secretary, W. O. Hotchkiss, Madison; vice presidents, J. H. Stout, Menominee; E. E. Browne, Waupaca; John Ronald, Mt. Horeb; A. R. Hoard, Fort Atkinson; and Otto Dörner, Milwaukee. County vice presidents were elected for each county in the state.

ABBOTT'S MARGIN WAS 300 VOTES

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 10.—Less than 300 votes separate George E. Beedle and James E. Abbott in the race for the republican nomination for commissioner of insurance. This margin favors Mr. Abbott and is unlikely to be cut down. In fact, Mr. Abbott's friends declare they have advised that the reported majority of 768 given Mr. Abbott in Milwaukee county will be found to be some 200 votes greater in the official returns, and they insist that their man is nominated by about 500 plurality over Mr. Beedle.

Friends of Mr. Beedle are writing him, expressing their regrets and saying that the voters seemed to overlook his danger in the primaries.

FAIRBANKS PASSES THRU MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 10.—Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks passed through Milwaukee on his way to Menominee, Mich., where he will address the Menominee County fair. With him was Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan, E. C. Eastman of Marinette, H. T. Emerson of Menominee, and Roger M. Andrews, also of that city.

Mr. Fairbanks refused to discuss politics in any shape, but stated that he was much tempted to stop off in Milwaukee on his way back, so lively and prosperous did the city appear to him.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold A. J. Nushbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." O. T. Erhart.

COUNTY FAIR WILL OPEN DURING NIGHT

The premium list is replete with offerings in all classes. The free attractions, day and night, will surpass those of other years. NEW VARIETY OF MINNESOTA RYE

A new variety of rye called Minnesota No. 2 has been originated by the Minnesota experiment station and is now ready for distribution through the country. This rye is obtained from a selection of Swedish rye and has been found to be a very high yielder. On the station grounds the average yield for the past eight years has been 40.0 bushels per acre while the average yield of other varieties has been found to be about 19 bushels.

The grain of this new variety is very plump and meaty and much larger than the common varieties. The stalks are stiff and tall and stand up well. A few bushels of this rye were distributed about the state last year in order that the yields might be compared under the conditions with the common varieties. It was found that the Minnesota No. 2 averaged 27.7 bushels per acre while the other varieties under similar conditions averaged but 17.7 bushels per acre.

BOARD INSPECTS SCHOOL BUILDINGS

At the monthly meeting of the school board last night at Superintendent Birds office, a number of bills were audited and several reports were read and filed. Nothing out of the usual order of business was transacted.

L. F. Easton, chairman of the building committee suggested that the entire board make a tour of inspection visiting all the buildings in the city and it was decided that the board act upon his suggestion this afternoon. The buildings will all be carefully inspected and necessary improvements and repairs noted.

The board will start at 1 o'clock and it is expected that the inspection will occupy the whole afternoon.
